

The EOC Group, established in 1948 and based in Oudenaarde, Belgium and Cham, Switzerland, is a family business. Over the last 75 years, EOC has developed into a worldwide supplier of adhesives, specialty binders, coatings and surfactants for a wide variety of applications and industries with over 700 employees. The company's vision is to "create products to improve the quality of life". Industries that are supplied with EOC-products are packaging, automobiles, carpets and textiles, paper, personal care products, paints, adhesives and many more.

In order to complement the Board of Directors of the company, we are looking for a new

Member of the Board for EOC Group with a strong technical background in manufacturing of chemical products

The requirements for this exciting, demanding and responsible strategic mandate are:

- Strong professional track record and longtime experience in manufacturing of chemical products;
- Capability of serving as the "technical conscience" of the board of directors;
- Competence and practical experience in handling security issues and environmental protection regarding chemical products (preferably knowledge of Seveso guidelines);
- Strong technical educational background at university level or comparable (ETH, University or University of Applied Sciences);
- Entrepreneurial spirit with an international management experience at C-level, preferably in companies comparable to the size and nature of EOC Group;
- Thorough acquaintance of the owner-oriented corporate environment and strong will of serving the company;
- Time availability of approximately 20 - 30 days a year, flexibility to travel abroad, fluent in English;
- Appropriate personality profile for the EOC Group: strong identification with family businesses, high level of integrity and trustworthiness, commitment and willingness to contribute, conceptual and strategic thinking, paired with rational decision-making ability, enthusiasm for the company and the industry.

Are you interested in this highly interesting board activity in a dynamic international and family-owned business environment? Felix Howald and Silvan Felder are looking forward to receiving your CV, together with a motivation letter in English, referring to the requirements mentioned above, online or to info@vrmanagement.ch.
